DEAR MR. SNOW;

I urge that before you take any action to enact the proposed CALFED WATER project that you take a good look at WATER CONSERVATION plans.

Your present plan calls for more dams and canals at a cost of many billions of dollars and would take many years to complete. Conservation plans would cost less and could be operating in less time than your proposed plan.

We should ensure effective conservation programs such as reclaiming water, toilets and washing machines that use less water, discourage the growth of crops such as cotton and alfalfa which use huge amounts of water and replace them with crops that are more profitable and use less water.

Very few people are aware of the CalFed plan. More time must be allowed before any plan for our vital water resources is enacted.

Sincerely,

Seymour Rubinstein
