On May 1, over 70 representatives from seven counties attended a meeting at the Corning City Hall where Lester Snow, Dick Daniel and Anthony Saracino listened to summary presentations made by the chairmen of the Flood Management, Groundwater, and Storage & Conveyance Committees. County supervisors from Butte, Colusa, Glenn, Sutter, Tehama and Yolo were present to convey formal Board approval of the recommendations developed by the committees. The Shasta County representative present at the meeting reaffirmed the formal approval granted by the Shasta County Board last December towards the position statements developed by the Group. The CALFED representatives then answered questions posed by the audience for over an hour.

At the end of meeting, CALFED officials stated their interest in coordinating with the Northern Sacramento Valley CALFED Advisory Group to co-host a workshop addressing storage and conveyance issues, with an emphasis on proposed CALFED conjunctive use and groundwater banking operations in our area. This workshop has been scheduled for 7:00 pm, June 26 at the Red Bluff Community Center. An agenda and map are enclosed for your information.

Your attendance at this meeting will further strengthen the growing influence of our northern Sacramento Valley group, which now includes nearly 100 participants. The June 26 workshop will provide an excellent opportunity to gain firsthand knowledge of proposed plans to utilize local groundwater for the CALFED selected alternative.
