>I recently completed this draft internal information paper for our staff on >bromide and DBP issues and the Delta. It was created to educate our staff >on the issues (So no one here should now have an excuse for ignorance to >the subject matter. But you know how that goes!) I've already >incorporated comments from Marv Jung. Phil is still reviewing it. I >thought you might like a copy for cutting and pasting if you or your staff >should have a need for it. Hopefully, it can reduce a little bit of work >time for your staff. It is still draft, so we cannot release it as a >document produced by us. The bits of information can still be used, >however, with references to their source. Anyway, have a great day.
