Hi Scott

Our biological study leads for the North of the Delta Offstream Storage investigation evaluated habitat within a one-mile buffer area surrounding each proposed reservoir site. With the exception of our botanist, all participants responded with lists identical to the reservoir footprint, although several mentioned that habitat within the buffer areas may be of higher quality than the actual footprint.

The only species added to the potential list is:

Streptanthus morrisonii ssp morrisonii

I have drafted a letter to Ron Rempel regarding our evaluation but wanted to get this information to those working on the list of species evaluated in the CALFED Conservation Strategy.

Could you please provide me with a name within CALFED or its consultants who are working on this list?

Thanks for your help
