Dear Paul,

Inclosed are 6 copies of the CALFED general informational booklet, Phase II Report, and the Diversion Effects on Fish (Draft) report. The first two are for background information. The Fish Report is the one we need the American Fisheries Society technical review.

Sample questions that we would like your team to address are:

- Does the process appear to be logical?
- How can we refine or improve the process?
- How does this process compare to others you have experienced?
- Does the report make biological sense?
- How would you incorporate the evaluation of the ecological process into a decision?
- How adequate are our analysis tools that we applied? Are there other tools?
- Does the species teams reports support the conclusions in the summary?

Once you receive these give me a call and we will work out the details.

Sincerely

Ron Ott
