Dear Mr. Hannigan,

I am an environmentalist and am writing to urge you to support environmentalists in our efforts to obtain a balance between those whose plans for California are heavily influenced by the desire to make money and those whose plans for California seek to conserve as much of it's natural state as possible. It is important to us environmentalists to invest in water efficiency, restore our rivers, bays, and fisheries, and improve water quality. Please help the state by choosing a long-term strategy of conservation for our water resources.

Sincerely,

Marcelle Pratt
