selection & eligibility

producers with projects To attend IFFCON 1999, all North American producers must submit a brief synopsis of a project for which they seek international financing. A selection committee of development executives reviews applications. Based on the project's prospects in a global market and the producer's track record, the committee recommends sixty producers to attend. For those selected the fee to attend iffcon is $450. The deadline for producers with projects to apply has passed.

industry pass IFFCON reserves Industry Passes for film executives who do not represent a specific project, but whose company has demonstrated a significant contribution to independent film. The fee to attend IFFCON with an Industry Pass is $450 and enables you to attend iffcon activities throughout the three days including all panel discussions, roundtable sessions and receptions. Please contact IFFCON at 415.281.9777 or email info@iffcon.com for more information about an application for an Industry Pass.

panelists International buyers, financiers, sales agents and co-producers are asked to participate in iffcon according to their company's ability to help package, finance and acquire projects from independent producers. Panelists play an active role at iffcon in group discussions, roundtables, and private meetings with producers.

dossier The conference dossier is an indispensable guide to the weekend's activities. It introduces the selected producers, provides brief synopses of their projects, lists other key personnel and current contact information. IFFCON participants will receive the dossier when they register at the event.

open day IFFCON's Open Day is an intensive introduction to the means and methods of international film financing and co-production. This is the only day that registration is open to the public. The fee to
