ECONOMICS

Lynn...Here is Economics comments on the calfed's forthcoming work...

page 2. Federal guidelines say that we can't use "secondary benefits" unless they are national in scope...which has ment that it has been very rare to fine any...so don't expect any for this study.

Also, we don't inventory or evaluate "land". It does not damage or lose value...

page 17. There is a lot of flooding that has occured since 1982 and this should be included.

Overall there is a mishmash of dates for different data and any comparisons to be made should be done using the same date data.
